November - a time to remember those we have a loved and lost.

"TO LIVE IN HEARTS WE LEAVE BEHIND IS NOT TO DIE."

SPRING BLOOMS FOR OUR SCHOOLS

As part of our Joint Schools Creative Clusters Project - our school communities will be planting bulbs in November to remember our loved ones who have passed away. We are getting interconnecting planters - one for each school. Next year, the planters will move to St Seton's and join together. They will be a reminder of our past histories and heritages as three schools, while the bulbs will represent the new beginning that St Seton's promises to be. We'd love to get everyone's input into what bulbs we'll plant. Please click the yellow button to take part!

Tender Documents will be published on E-Tenders this week to appoint the necessary professional services to complete the Building Condition Report at Le Fanu Road. Last week Session 2 of our Staff Transition Programme took place. Both the Parents' Council and the Student Councils met on Wednesday and much of the discussions focused on looking at ways to positively support the transition to St Seton's. The Campus Layout Committee are preparing their final report with recommendations for the Board of Management who meet next on 30th November. Sales meetings and quotes are being secured for the upgrade of IT Equipment. The ICT Coordinators are meeting this week to collaborate on transitioning to Google Workspace for Education for St. Seton's. A meeting with each AP1 team will take place to discuss the Code of Behaviour on Friday.

JOINT STUDENT COUNCIL TEAM

The Student Councils from the three schools met again last week. The focus of the meeting was to plan for the cross-campus Christmas Card Competition. The students agreed arrangements for promotion and raising awareness of the competition in each of their schools. They made suggestions for how the judging process should happen and how the printed cards would be sold within the schools before Christmas. A survey has been circulated for the student council members to complete to decide the charity, based on their suggestions, that the proceeds of the card sales will be donated to. The students will meet again on 23rd November.
